General information

Who should complete this form?

Use this form to calculate and claim your GST/HST new housing rebate if you are an individual who built a new house. You can also claim the rebate for a substantial renovation of your house, a major addition that forms part of a renovation of your house, and for a conversion from non-residential to residential use. The house must be the primary place of residence for yourself or your relation. If the application is signed by someone other than the claimant, you must attach a properly executed power of attorney to this form.

If your house is located in a province that offers a provincial new housing rebate and you are eligible to claim that rebate, complete the appropriate provincial rebate schedule to claim the provincial new housing rebate.

Documentation required

You are not required to submit proof of occupancy (such as a copy of the new house insurance policy with dates and coverage; your vehicle insurance or registration that shows the new address; or an invoice for telephone, hydro, or natural gas hook-up) with your application. However, you may be asked to provide proof of occupancy later.

Do not send all of your invoices. Keep them for six years in case we ask to see them.

When should I file my claim?

Generally, you have two years from the date the construction or substantial renovation is substantially (90%) completed to claim the rebate.

Note for British Columbia new housing rebate

As of April 1, 2013, British Columbia reinstated its provincial sales tax and the HST was replaced by the federal GST.

A British Columbia new housing rebate for the provincial part of the HST is only available where the HST became payable before April 2013.

Generally, you have to file your British Columbia new housing rebate by the earlier of:

- two years from the date the construction or substantial renovation is substantially (90%) completed; or
- March 31, 2017.

No British Columbia new housing rebate for the provincial part of the HST will be available for rebate applications filed after March 31, 2017 (even if the filing deadline that would normally apply has not yet passed).

For more information on the filing deadlines that would normally apply for this rebate, see Guide RC4028, GST/HST New Housing Rebates.
